

EHR Integration Services and Byte Sized Solutions Honored with 2016 Allscripts Developer Program Client Impact Award

EHR Integration Services (EHRis), a leading healthcare data management service company, is pleased to announce that it has received the 2016 Allscripts Developer Program (ADP) Client Impact Award along with its Perfect Practice Alliance (PPA) partner, Byte Sized Solutions.

EHR Integration Services (EHRis), a leading healthcare data management service company, is pleased to announce that it has received the 2016 Allscripts Developer Program (ADP) Client Impact Award along with its Perfect Practice Alliance (PPA) partner, Byte Sized Solutions. Byte Sized Solutions is a technology company focused on improving the efficiency of healthcare delivery through the use of innovative, high-performance data integration utilities and custom applications.

EHRis and Byte Sized Solutions, both members of the Allscripts Developer Program (ADP), received the award at the Allscripts Developer Summit for their ongoing commitment and demonstrable impact on Allscripts client business and performance in the medical practice. The Allscripts-certified solutions offered by EHR Integration Services include the EHRQIS Quality Information System, Chart2PDF and eFiler.

“We originally implemented Chart2PDF and had such a great experience and support from EHRis, that when we needed a solution to assist our physicians and staff to focus on quality, choosing EHRQIS was an easy decision. It became a true turning point in patient engagement and outcomes focus for our practice,” said Leslie Zeck, EHR/Quality Systems Manager at North Ohio Heart.

“I couldn’t be more proud about receiving this particular award because it praises not only the positive impact our software has had on clients, but equally important, the level of customer service provided by our implementation and support teams,” remarked Craig Luce, President of EHR Integration Services. “We strive to develop products and services that enable healthcare providers to offer a high quality of care while streamlining their workflow, and this recognition highlights all our hard work,” added Steve Buttitta, President of Byte Sized Solutions.

The Allscripts Developer Program enables third parties to integrate with or develop enhanced functionality for Allscripts clinical solutions and offers qualified developers the opportunity to use a variety of Software Development Kits (SDKs) to connect with its applications. The program, which was designed to give Allscripts partners access to the tools and services they need to have a great development experience, incorporates streamlined processes and low entry costs and gives its members the opportunity to co-market applications directly to Allscripts clients.

“EHRis and Byte Sized Solutions received this award because of the impact their products have had on multiple practices,” explained Stanley Crane, Chief Innovation Officer of Allscripts. “They continue to provide innovative products and top-tier service to our mutual clients and offer unique solutions to combat various workflow issues facing the healthcare industry.”

The Perfect Practice Alliance was created by EHRis and Byte Sized Solutions along with National Physician Services with the mission of helping practices efficiently and cost-effectively achieve their desired clinical, technology and business goals. With an emphasis on workflow improvements and bottom-line results, the PPA offers a wide range of opportunities for physician groups to become the Perfect Practice.

Learn more about the innovative solutions offered by EHR Integration Services and others built on Allscripts Open platform on the Allscripts Application Store at <https://store.allscripts.com>.

About EHR Integration Services

Founded in 2006 by President Craig Luce, EHR Integration Services (EHRis) consists of a team of skilled specialists who leverage their knowledge and experience in Healthcare IT to transform complex data integration issues into clinical and operational workflow improvements required to manage today's electronic medical practice. Headquartered in Skaneateles, New York, the EHRis mission is to improve care delivery and bottom line results through "Perfect Practice," the company's proven consulting process and service philosophy that provides the perfect approach to data integration solutions. The company is a Certified Developer Partner for Allscripts. For more information about the company, visit www.ehr-integration.com.

About Byte Sized Solutions

Founded in 2006 by Steve Buttitta, Byte Sized Solutions is a technology company focused on improving the efficiency of healthcare delivery through the use of innovative, high-performance data integration utilities and custom applications. With extensive knowledge and expertise in creative problem-solving applied to health information technology, Byte Sized Solutions consultants can manage any data integration or application optimization problem quickly and cost-effectively the first time. The company maintains a strategic focus in the following healthcare IT categories: systems integration and custom interfaces, EHR extractions and conversions, workflow process automation, EHR application add-on and business intelligence reporting and analysis. For more information, visit www.bytesizedsolutions.com.

Contact Information

Jay Mangicaro

(315) 382-5984